Commencement Exercises

Mark Closing of the Most Successful Term of School in History of Hickman College

Thursday evening, June 6th, our people enjoyed the splendid Commencement of the class of 1907.

The essays were well written and were read with real touches of oratory; the impersonations were rendered with the grace, charm, and ease of professionals; and, after blending the beauty of the floral display, the touching effect of the pantominers, and the attractiveness of the costly costumes with the outranks all others ever held in Hick-man.

It was, also, a fit and crowning effort for the school year just closed which is considered the most success-tal in our school's history.

A shower of complimentary re-marks was heard regarding the taste, beauty, and artistic effects of the entire program, and the Courier ex-tends congratulations to those who planned it and to those who so ex-cellently rendered the program.

SECOND NIGHT.

On Friday evening the annual entertainment of the Musical department was attended by a large audience. Besides the numerous selections of music there were many other attractive features, the most popular of which were the "Soldiers of Uncle Sam." "Crowning the Queen," "Pickaninies," the "Broom Drill," the "Japanese Wedding," and the funny comedy "Aunt Susan Jones."

Kequisition Papers Issued.
The negro, Wash Stoner, who attempted an assault at a paperwood carrip in the upper bottoms a few weeks ago, was arrested at Dayton, Ohio. The officers at that place notified the sheriff here that quick action was necessary, and that the negro refused to return to Kentucky without a requisition. This was secured, the papers coming Monday, and Deputy Sheriff Goalder Johnson, left Tuenday night to bring the prisoner back.

On Wednesday afternoon, June 19, Rev. B. Marvin Harris—who conducted a union revival in the city last Spring—will wed Miss Laura V. Patton, of Paynesville, Mo.

Mo.

The bride-elect is the only daughter of Col. J. H. Patton, and is one of the sweetest young women in Missouri. She is highly educated, has traveled extensively and is a very musician.

He began preaching when he was fifteen years of age—being known for years as the vboy preacher." During his career he has preached in every state in the Union and province of Canada. Though he devotes himself constantly to his calling, he controls quite a volume of business and is well known in financial and educational circles. There are many things we could say about Harris—all good, too—but lack of space forbids.

The Courier joins the many friends of Mr. Harris in extending congratulations, and assure him the "latchations, and assure him the "latchations, and assure him the "latchating is always a-hanging out."

Sensation at Fulton.

Sensation at Fulton.

Scallement has prevailed in Fulton this week. Rev. Frank G. Hawley, a former minister of that place, upon his arrival in the city at midnight. Tuesday, was met by Mr. W. Meadows and a score of his friends, who proceeded with him to the business street of the town, and administered to him a liberal dose of rawhilde tea, and was then taken to Pierce, Tenn., and ordered to stay away forever. The minister, it is alleged, (and he admits his guilty was the cause of the divorce proceeding being filed against Mr. Meadows by his wife recently. He admits that he had allenated the affections of Mrs. Meadows, and said that he deserved to be huggarther than horsewhiped. The sympathy of the community is in favor of Mr. Meadows and his act is generally commended.

It would seem that, considering the amount of lumber that is leaving the South annually, our congressmen ought to be very urgent, anxious and solicitous about the establisment and maintenance of the Appalachian Forest Reserve. In the last fiscal year the southern guld states alone shipped out (to all parts of the world) 200,000,000 feet. Evidently, we can't keep up this pace very long, not more than ten years at best. The maintenance and establishment of forest reserves will loom up as a matter of more and more importance as the years roll on.

Found Guilty.

T. G. Roach, a former resident of this city, has been convicted of second degree murder.

It was alleged he killed a man at Crown King, Aria, on the night of Nov. 9, 1906.

Mr. Roach, who is afficited with consumption, was told to drink whishey by his physicians. November 6th he drank to excess and while in a very ugly humor, paraded the street armed with a Winchester rift threatening to kill some one before morning. While two miners, one of whom had had a difficulty with Roach earlier in the night, were standing talking together in a saloon, a rife report sounded, and a bullet crashed through the window and killed the man with whom Roach's erstwhle enemy was talking. This caused suspicion to be directed towards Roach, and when "trailers" who possessed the uning of Indians, claimed to have tracked the assassin to Roach's corr, sax miles away. The case seemed conclusive, and he was arrested and thrends there who had a sarrested and thrends here who are grieved by his unfortunate predicament. Labor and Play.

An intelligent and watchful under sent her child to the kinder-garten for several months and then withdrew it, because she found that it was being ruined by "getting the attitude of regarding everything as a game." That is, instead of learning through games to go about the serious business of life, it was learning to approach everything in the careless make-believe spirit of play. There is a hint of this in our colleges. There is also a suggestion of wisdom for all those who do puzeles and play chess, ride to hounds and fool with rings and bars to develop their minds and bodies. The world is cursed with tens of thousands of human beings who have the best matural advantages, but can get up the steam of enthusiasm only for some game that is weeless in its aim, and no more useful in its method han its corresponding reality would be. It is as certain as cause and effect that he who takes play serious-ly will also take serious things playfully.

Miss Bulah Strong, of near Ful-Labor and Play.

Miss Bulah Strong, of near Ful-ton, and Claude Orr, of Dyersburg, Tenn., were married at Fulton, Wed-nesday night, June 5th.

unite and go to work in the right direction, we can soon be free.

But will we do that? We have two, perhaps three farmers' organizations in Fulton county. Shall we co-operate and use all our strength against our oppressions, or shall we dispute and haggle among ourselves, until our enemies shall have bound us hand and foot?

When England tried to force us to pay taxes without representation in parliament, we resisted. Finding that we were too weak to cope, with the mother country, we sent Ben Franklin to Europe, to solicit aid. He soon secured the sympathy of Spain and Holland and the active co-operation of France. LaFayette, DeGrasse and thousands of soldiers came to our aid. Guns, ships, and thousands of dollars were sent to our assistance, and soon the tide of war turned in our favor.

The parlor as a parlor will soon be a relic of the past. The very name seems to suggest stiffness and lack of comfort. The new houses, even the most modest ones, will have the best room, the one in which the whole family gathers, a warm, sunpplace, a home room in its truest sense. The next generation will not waste space on parlors. Perhaps a little library, for privacy, will also be indispensable to many. This cheery room of the future will hold the piano, the general books, the pictures, work baskets and everything that serves to make home a haven of rest for loyal hearts. Speed the day.
